

A work song, for when folding large clothes, sarongs and sheets with a child.

(sung to the tune of London Bridge is falling down)

(courtesy of Evelyn of Storytelling threads)

Take the corners of the cloth, of the cloth, of the cloth

Take the corners of the cloth,

And hold one in each hand.

Shake the washing in the wind, in the wind, in the wind

Shake the washing in the wind,

Then make the corners touch.

Take two corners in one hand, in one hand, in one hand

Take two corners in one hand

And then grasp the hanging new one.

Forwards now, the two of us, the two of us, the two of us

Forwards now, the two of us,

And someone takes them all.

Two new corners flapping loose, flapping loose, flapping loose,

Two new corners flapping loose,

Pick them up and hold them.

Come together, both of us, both of us, both of us,

Come together, both of us,

And someone take them all.
